A candidate should hold his temper when his official acts are being discussed, for an office holder is the servant of the people and his official acts are subjects of legitimate criticism, and such criticism will be an incentive to them or their successors in office to be the more careful and exact in their every official act.

It is said that Marion Butler has about decided to leave the State of North Carolina. We suppose the climate for the last few months has gotten to be too warm for him in that section of the country. North Carolina is to be congratulated on his departure.

Bryan, during the campaign for the next few months, will deliver speeches throughout the country through phonographs. He was closed a few days ago for several hours delivering speeches on a phonograph. This is indeed a new method of campaign speech-making by phonograph.

J. H. Moore, Esq., of Charleston, candidate for Attorney General, has withdrawn from the race. The tickets had been printed before he withdrew and his name will have to be erased by the voters.

The result of the election at the State level will be an indication of the people's choice.

The present State campaign for the State and Congressional elections has been a very successful one.

The Conservative Side.

To Editor Laurens Herald: I see a writer in the last issue of the Advertiser, claiming to have always been a Reformer or Tillmanite, and signing himself "Voter," advises the Reformers to vote for Patterson, Gary or Hoyt rather than for Governor McSweeney.

Now, Mr. Editor, the Reformers can do as they please, but I insist, as a Conservative, that my faction owe it to themselves to vote for McSweeney. Unless we are willing and ready to parade our political inconsistency before the broad gaze of the world, we cannot do other than cast our votes for McSweeney. When we were talking of doing away with factionalism, we were in earnest about it, or were we not?

It is an admitted fact that Governor McSweeney has been elected by the people of this State. He has done more to end the factionalism than all the parties combined. He has done more to end the factionalism than all the parties combined.

He has done more to end the factionalism than all the parties combined. He has done more to end the factionalism than all the parties combined.
